

BAYVIEW CAPITAL GROUP ANNOUNCES LATEST TRANSACTION

WAYZATA, MINNESOTA, January 11, 2008 – Bayview Capital Group announced today that its client, Delta Consultants (“Delta”), has been acquired by Oranjewoud N.V. (AMS: ORANW) (“Oranjewoud”), a Netherlands-based environment, safety and engineering consulting firm.

Both firms are part of the Inogen Alliance, a global corporation formed by a network of environmental, health, safety and sustainability consulting firms to provide multinational organizations with consistent, high quality and cost-effective environmental, health and safety solutions. As partners in Inogen, Delta and Oranjewoud shared resources and technology to serve joint clients. The acquisition allows the combined company to establish a larger anchor for this global alliance and to offer a more cohesive approach for clients at the multi-national level.

Founded in 1986, Delta built a solid reputation as a solutions provider in the areas of environmental, health & safety and sustainability consulting for the petroleum, manufacturing, specialty chemical and forest products markets. In over 20 years, the company grew to more than 700 employees with more than 45 offices around the country. “Delta’s strong U.S. coverage provides a complementary footprint for Oranjewoud in the U.S. market without organizational overlap,” says Gerard Sanderink, CEO and majority owner of Oranjewoud.

“Joining forces with Oranjewoud positions us to better achieve our company’s aspirations by leveraging synergies in the areas of environmental and safety consulting to build a stronger global platform. We look forward to working together, as leaders in our respective countries, to provide our clients with innovative solutions and an exceptional level of service,” says Bob Karls, Delta Chairman and CEO. This integration will create a multi-national environment and safety consulting division with more than 1,200 employees, resulting in opportunities for our team members, a larger Associate for the Inogen Alliance, and broader capabilities for our clients.

Karls, along with Kris Van Malderen, Director of Oranjewoud’s Netherlands, Belgium and France Environment & Safety Division, will be joint CEOs/Managing Directors of the combined Environment and Safety Division created by the acquisition.
